Keep Calm. It's Ordinary Time.

This message, which is one of the roughly million takes on the original 1939 British "Keep Calm and Carry On" poster, is printed on a green t-shirt and frequently manifests its presence in the form of an advertisement on my Facebook page.

This past week I've been decorating Fellowship Hall and planning summer worship. I've been considering how I want to frame the service these next couple months, and the directive of the aforementioned green t-shirt has come to mind on more than one occasion. The liturgical year, especially Lent and Advent, can be a wild ride for pastors as we strive to plan services that appropriately and responsibly capture the meaning of the seasons and their implications for us Christians. Beginning in late November or early December there is Advent, which culminates in Christmas and is followed shortly thereafter by Epiphany and the Baptism of the Lord. There are then a handful of "Ordinary Time" weeks but Transfiguration Sunday is right around the corner. Only 72 hours later comes Ash Wednesday, which marks the beginning of two months of Lent. Lent concludes with Holy Week, a run of services which begins with Palm Sunday and also consists of Maundy Thursday and Good Friday worship (though in some churches involves additional services, such as Saturday Easter Vigil). Then there is Easter, the Resurrection of the Lord. After that we have 6 more "Sundays of Easter," which leads right into Pentecost Sunday and Trinity Sunday.

And then.....Ordinary Time. Pastors everywhere stop and take a collective breath. In our mind's eye we are reclining on a beach, our toes in the sand and only blue sky as far as the eye can see.

Okay, so I might be exaggerating just a tad. But the truth is that in these 4 months of ordinary time pastors are presented with a respite from the heavily regimented church calendar. The calendar is still there, but in this absence of festival day and season we are given the liberty to swim in an ocean of autonomy as we exist in this time between Easter and Advent.

So, what to do? It's Ordinary Time, so a perfectly acceptable option would be to Keep Calm, as the t-shirt suggests. Select lectionary texts, pick out the typical hymns, and show up on Sunday morning with a sermon. Go through the motions, because summer has arrived and we're all hot and sleepy and just waiting to get home for some barbecue and the swimming pool.

But I don't want to "keep calm."

When the sun is shining into Fellowship Hall and I'm with my beloved church family, that's the last thing I want to do. When the music begins playing and every face is lined with a smile, it's the last thing I'd think to do. And as we are all together in one place with the singular goal of worshiping God, it's the last thing I'd ever be able to do.

In the worship space that has been crafted in our Fellowship Hall, you will notice the color green is not in short supply. Green, which is the liturgical color for Ordinary Time, is symbolic of life and growth. If we are to truly live and grow, we cannot "Keep Calm." If we cannot regularly find joy anew in the gospel that we preach, we might as well tear down all that green, for there is no life in us. And we can forget about growth in our numbers, for that lack of life will inspire exactly zero others to join us.

It's easy to become frustrated when it doesn't seem like we're "growing." As you stare out at the myriad shades of green in your midst, however, I would remind you that growth takes many forms. Growth is not just about physical numbers. If we had 300 more people in church next Sunday but they were all there to take a nap, would we be able to call that growth? We need to be able to surrender to what God offers us: each other. We must yield to God's timing; we are in charge of doing ministry and revealing Christ to others...NOT "putting butts in the seats." And so I say this: "Growth" does not begin with hundreds of people in chairs. Growth begins inside YOU. We must hold ourselves accountable and regularly take spiritual stock of what is happening within our heads and our hearts. Are you growing in your prayer life? Your devotional life? Is your path shrouded in the darkness of ambiguity, or does the Word of God light your path? How often do you deny yourself and take up your cross and follow Christ?

If you cannot take up your own cross, no one will follow you to the cross of Christ. Growth begins inside each of us, and the Spirit will shepherd us along that marvelous, unending journey. Rather than dreaming about fuller sanctuaries, let us instead seize the opportunity to live our Christian faith as we joyfully engage in fellowship. We already have been given a great gift, so let us show God our gratitude for what we have today.

Carpe diem, friends. Live, and God will take care of the growth.

There will be a card and game night in Fellowship Hall on Friday, July 21 from 6:30-9:30 PM.

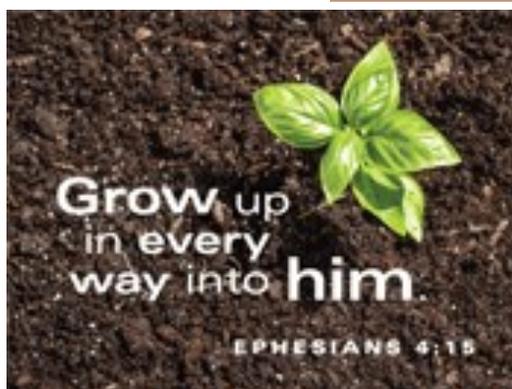

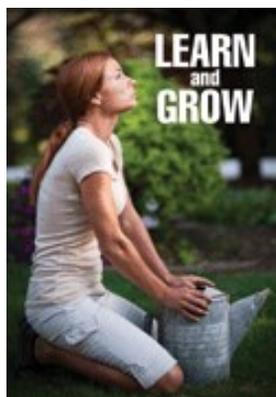

During the first hour (6:30-7:30) there will also be a fundraiser meal provided, with funds going toward replacement of the cement walk by the lower level entrance. This is the second of three such game/fundraiser nights; the final one is scheduled for Friday, August 18.

July 2 – September 3

Worship will be in the Fellowship Hall and will begin at 10:00 a.m.

The Presbytery's Hunger Ministries Program requested boxes of cereal, breakfast bars, juice boxes, non-perishable milk and raisins for local children who have relied on free or reduced-price breakfast and lunch at school and who might go without enough to eat in the summer.

The Kirk stepped up and members donated 30 boxes of cereal that Pastor Mike and Elder Madeline Carpenter delivered to the Presbytery Meeting on June 13. Thank you!

CROP WALK UPDATE

$7008 was raised by the participating churches. 75% of this goes to the International programs Crop Walk supports. 25% stays in our local community and is divided up between FISH, St. Mary's Food Cupboard, New Hope 's Food Cupboard and the Salvation Army.

* equals the total for Kirk checking, savings, and mutual funds.
Does not include Thank God 4 Christian Parents Fund.

For May the Kirk eked out a positive result due mainly to continued use of a gas bill credit and $750 in gains on Kirk Mutual Funds. Overall the Mutual Funds are earning over 12% for this year but things can of course change during the next months. Although not a part of the above schedule, the Kirk did also repair a portion of the flat roof at a cost of $1,500 which was withdrawn from the Kirk's Capital Funds Reserves.

15 Kirk of Our Savior households shopped at Kroger between January 31, 2017 and April 30, 2017 and contributed $78.79 through the Kroger Community Rewards program. It's easy to sign up. See Fred Kirk or visit Carolyn, our Administrative Assistant, during office hours if you would like more information on how to sign up. There is no cost to you. Kroger donates a percentage of your total bill back to the church. If you aren't already signed up, please consider doing so.

BECKMAN BABY SHOWER

SUNDAY, AUGUST 6

We will be celebrating the upcoming birth of Baby Beckman! Shower will take place after worship in Fellowship Hall.

Light refreshments will be served.

The Beckmans are registered under "Michael Beckman" at Amazon.com and Target.com. Amazon gift cards (available in person at most grocery and drug stores) are welcomed if you prefer not to shop online.

Please pray for JoAnn and Ron Bard. Ron has cancer and has about 3 months to live.

The mission of the Kirk of Our Savior is to glorify God, nurture new and existing relationships, and bear witness to our faith and divine calling through worship, service, stewardship and prayer.

It is the vision of this church to become a living example of God's love, called to show Christ to those within the church community by offering ourselves in service to those in need and inviting all to share in this vision.
